- For courses held in 2026 academic year, please refer to the syllabus and class schedule.
- When you register for a course on the Student Affairs Information System, the course will be automatically registered in Google Classroom on the following day. If the class is not automatically registered in Classroom, please refer to the class code and register it by yourself.
 - * Syllabus → you can find syllabus on the Student Affairs Information System
 - * Class schedule → check the Graduate School of Life Sciences homepage.

2026 Class Schedule, about Google Classroom and Class Codes: <https://www.lifesci.tohoku.ac.jp/oncampus/>

- The following three courses are courses for which students can earn credits by attending joint lectures and submitting reports (Japanese only).

「Advanced Biochemistry I~II (2 credits each)」 ... Joint Lectures on Biochemistry

「Advanced Cell Biology I~II (2 credits each)」 ... Joint Lecture on Cell Biology

「Advanced Ecology I~II (2 credits each)」 ... Joint Lectures on Ecology

- These courses are year-long course. Please register all the credits you wish to earn during the 2026 academic year during this registration period. *You cannot register for these courses during the second semester registration period in October.

(Example) Student wants to take 4 credits of Biochemistry Joint Lectures in 2026.

(In case of attending 10 lectures and submitting 2 reports) ⇒ Register for both Advanced Biochemistry I and Advanced Biochemistry II.

- The schedule for the joint lectures can be found on the Graduate School of Life Sciences homepage.
- Please use the "Joint Lecture Attendance Sheet" to keep a record of which lecture you have attended and the date of your attendance.

Other

Credit-granted Seminars

If you participate in a seminar or other event recognized by the Graduate School as a "Credit-granted Seminar" and earn a certain number of points, it may be approved as a related subject.

The points should be recorded on the "Seminar Attendance Card" distributed with the orientation materials.

After earning enough points, you can receive credit by submitting your attendance card by the designated date.

In this case, registration through the system is not required.

Information about credit-granted seminars will be announced via email.

Credit Approval for Courses Taken Prior to the Start of the Program

If you wish to receive credits for graduate school's courses taken as an undergraduate student prior to enrolling in our graduate school, please submit the following documents to the Academic Affairs Section of the Graduate School of Life Sciences.

- 先行履修による大学院授業科目の単位認定申請書 (Application for Approval of Credit for Courses Taken in Advance)

- 先行履修した大学院授業科目の単位修得通知書 (Notification of Credits Obtained for Courses Taken in Advance)

Application forms and details will be posted on the Graduate School of Life Sciences website.
